Retrograde october 2020 gemini

click to enlarge GEMINI (May 20–June 21) Mercury in Scorpio digs deep for facts; Mercury retrograde October 13 to Election Day meets resistance from opposition to Uranus - Saturn's surprising information and squares - the structures that protect it. Watch out for communication problems and technological breakdowns with Mercury vs. Uranus October 7 and the retrograde repetition of this opposition October 19. Don't worry about band aid adjustments for what's bothering you - invest in yourself or pay the price when Sun conjuncts retrograde Mercury October 25 just before Mercury enters the libra, with Venus on October 27. Exquisitely conceived self-care helps you survive this tense time. Speaking of... More » As if the astrology of autumn 2020 is not chaotic enough as-is, Mercury retrograde autumn 2020 begins on October 13. The planet of communication, thinking and time shrinks into one last backpin a year ago, and this time, it throws our deepest fears, feelings, and even our future into the mix, too. Knowing how Mercury retrograde autumn 2020 will affect your zodiac sign is a good idea - because if we can't stop it, the least we can do is be prepared, right? The upcoming Mercury retrograde period spends most of its journey in scorpion's deep and mysterious watermark, which has the potential to enhance our emotional defensiveness and put a sharp end to the way we communicate. Mercury's typical mice can make us feel paranoid and secretive, especially if we are forced to revisit the personal problems we have tried to hide or cover up in the past. Mercury is a nickname for the zodiac trick, and in Scorpio it looks like communication is coded and too stailie, astrologer Leslie Hale of Keen.com bustle says. Retrograde will eventually bring Mercury back to Libra for the past few days, where it will feel a little less intense and give us one last chance to review the logistical and communication styles within our partnerships. We are exactly three weeks of since this Mercury retrograde ends on November 3rd - known as election day in the US. Given that this transit is known for its lack of hair and technical errors, astrologers feel uneasy about the timing of this particular back, especially given the importance of the 2020 presidential election. , be sure to check the sources of voting information three times before sharing, making a voting plan and sticking to it, and try to vote early and avoid shortening something too close if you can. Ready or not, we're leaving! See how Mercury retrograde autumn 2020 will affect you, based on your zodiac sign. Aries (March 21 - April 19)If you owe money or a promise you haven't kept, don't be surprised if you show up with receipts to search for what's agreed. Don't ignore what you know you need attention, even if it is beneath the surface hidden from view. She feels vulnerable to admitting your debts, but you'll feel much lighter, freer and less stressed after dealing with them. Taurus (April 20 - May 20)If in your closest partnerships hides secrets or scandals, prepare for the opportunity to come to the surface, but do not be afraid of it. Being honest and keeping your communication as clear, biced and logical as possible can help you disperse the drama and come to a constructive conclusion. Just beware of exes resurfacing and searching for a second chance. Gemini (May 21 - June 20)Trying to manage your schedule and keep your daily life organized will turn out to be a difficult battle during the backing of your ruling planet Gemini, so don't be stressed trying. Be always adaptable and embrace your mindset better when it comes to plans and time. In fact, this is a good time to clear as much unnecessary crap from your calendar as you can and make some time for a physical break and wellness breaks. Cancer (June 21 - July 22)Now is not a great time to start something new if you can help it - and that includes jobs, passion projects, and romantic relationships. Cancer. Probably after retrograde, you will see some holes in the plan that have not been obvious to you before. While flirting or a new hobby can be a fun dopamine booster, don't put too much pressure on yourself to bury that joy last if it starts to fade in November as well. Some things are meant to be fleeting. Leo (July 23 - August 22)This retrograde is deeply and personally for you, Leo, as it is to load up on very heavy things from the past or family life that want to be considered in a new light. Instead of trying to bury these parts of yourself as you had before, summon your lion's courage and start untangling them to come out the other side of this retrograde position on a more solid (and honest) basis. Virgo (August 23 - September 22)Because Mercury is your ruling planet, its retrogrades are always a headache-inductor for you - and this time you'll want to be especially careful with your words as well as the way you interpret others. It will be too easy not to understand someone's mind or say the wrong thing yourself, so be sure to slow down and be extremely cautious about listening and speaking. And stay away from the gossip, Virgo, even if it's tempting. Libra (September 23 - 22) know this is your birthday season, but since this retrograde has the potential to cloud your judgment when it comes to what I value and how you want to spend your money, it's best to avoid any last-minute luxury or purchases - even if it sounds like fun at the time. The festive attitude is fine, but if it's expensive, unnecessary or technology-related, wait until the end of your retrograde end to make sure you're still feel the same way. Scorpion (Oct. 23- No. 21)With Mercury retrograde spends most of its time in its sign, Scorpion, expect to feel and cannot trust his judgment in the way he would have changed. Your intuitive nature is blurred and you may feel a little more vulnerable and less in control of how you present yourself and express your feelings. Instead of trying to conquer space, use this as time to slow down and refine your plans and path. Sagittarius (November 22 - December 21)It will be even harder than usual to express your subconscious feeling or even gain access to them during this confusion filled retrograde - so delay when it comes to socializing and grinding in the workplace is a good idea. Past secrets and even hopes can appear on the surface of your mind now and you will want to make sure that you have given yourself to the spiritual space and focus you need to deal with them. Capricorn (Dec. 22, 19)The best way to avoid drama during this retrograde, Cap, is to mind your own business and try to steer clear of gossip or battles with friends. The people on your social crew may be nursing old wounds and being taken out of the past, and while you may be forced to own your share of them, take care of keeping the names of others out of your mouth — and other people's opinions don't spin out of your head. Aquarius (February 20)Your working life is likely to feel messy under mercury's shadow, so don't be surprised you missed deadlines, emails lost, and maybe even some egos hurt. Instead of trying to counter the confusion by talking a big game, take a beat before making a final decision on everything related to your career, and use that time to review your professional path to make sure you're headed in a direction that feels true to you. Pisces (February 19 - March 20)It's really easy to get into the sea of other people's opinions under this transit, Pisces, but the best thing you can do is plant your feet on the ground and stay put. Don't let your imagination take over your logical brain and put your lofty dreams or heart changes on pause for the moment, as they may not represent your worldview in the way you think they do. Write down your feelings and look deeper after retrograde. Read what your 2020 horoscope predictions are targeted, or check the Twins' personality profile. Welcome to October, Gemini! At the end of September, you felt inspired and motivated. Whether you prioritize joining local activists, starting a new creative venture, or focusing on yourself after a very stressful few months, a full moon with a daring Aries on Thursday, October 1 puts extra behind its mission. Mercury's last retrograde of the year begins on Tuesday, October 13 and lasts until November 3 (which is also election day). Mercury is your ruling planet, so as always it can affect you more than others. This can also affect the elections; there may be a delay in voting, as well as confusing comments from candidates and the news media. Luckily, this Mercury retrograde is in Scorpio, the detective of the Secrets of all kinds can be revealed, so try and keep the head cool as it sorts you through information. It's been a rough year, and you're ready to connect with a romantic interest. Your love life soared during the new Moon in Libra, a sign of partnership, on Friday, October 16. No matter how talkative you are naturally, Gemini, really opening up your emotions can be difficult. You're better off playing a fight than talking about your feelings. But it's been a rough year, and you're ready to connect with a romantic interest. Lower your guard and use this moon to be vulnerable to someone you care about. He'll probably be well received. Scorpion season begins on Thursday, October 22. Known for obsessive-sexual and obsessive, this sign is as controversial as yours. But you love the intensity of scorpion season, which can be excellent for your sex life. Just remember, there's still a pandemic. Use your love of conversation to discuss safe dates, exposure risks and covid-19 testing before moving forward with new physical relationships. There's nothing wrong with staying and watching horror movies. Then get ready to shine on Halloween, which coincides with a full moon in a sensual Taurus on Saturday, October 31. Since crowded parties aren't a problem, grab a page from the book on that sign and stay in with a roommate or try a Netflix Party with a friend. Don't forget to eat. And, of course, you can dress regardless. Have fun, stay safe and see you in November.
